Change to Emergency Leave Travel

A recent interpretation of the Joint Federal Travel Regulation, paragraph U-7205, concerning Emergency Leave Travel, has changed the locations to which government-funded travel may be provided. Previously, members were booked on the first flight to the closest U.S. international airport after the traveler was available for travel, regardless of final destination. However, it was determined that the availability of flights had no bearing on the entitlement.

The complete Emergency Leave Travel entitlement text can be found at www.dtic.mil/perdiem.
